

Flasher Modules

The Data Panel 3.5 amp stand-alone flasher has two diode-protected inputs in a very low profile that fits the extruded structural elements of your vehicle. Alternatively, the flasher function can be integrated into another of Data Panel products like our power distribution or interlock modules.

A variety of flash patterns, flash rates and ratings are available.

VisionMark, Inc.

Exclusive North American distributor for the fire apparatus industry
2309 Industrial Drive, Sidney, OH 45365
Phone: 937-492-3100
Fax: 937-492-3108

Specification

Data Panel's engineering staff works with customers to fully understand each application. Only then do we document a complete set of design, development, and performance specifications

Design

Data Panel performs all electrical design and board layout in house – controlling every aspect of the development process.

Prototype

When required and/or requested, quick turn production intent prototypes can be developed to prove the design application.

Production

Our manufacturing group has a broad range of production experience and personnel. Just-In-Time deliveries support numerous rescue vehicle manufactures.

Field Support

Field Service personnel are always available to provide answers, service, and support for our customers and their customers!

See the full line of Data Panel solutions at www.visionmark.com/dpc.html.